

Information Commissioner's Office

Consultation:

Direct Marketing Code

Start date: 8 January 2020

End date: 4 March 2020

Introduction

The Information Commissioner is producing a direct marketing code of practice, as required by the Data Protection Act 2018. A draft of the code is now out for public consultation.

The draft code of practice aims to provide practical guidance and promote good practice in regard to processing for direct marketing purposes in compliance with data protection and e-privacy rules. The draft code takes a life-cycle approach to direct marketing. It starts with a section looking at the definition of direct marketing to help you decide if the code applies to you, before moving on to cover areas such as planning your marketing, collecting data, delivering your marketing messages and individuals rights.

The public consultation on the draft code will remain open until 4 March 2020. The Information Commissioner welcomes feedback on the specific questions set out below.

Questions

Q1 Is the draft code clear and easy to understand?

Yes

No

If no please explain why and how we could improve this:

In general the code is clear but we feel clarification is required with regard to the second example in the section titled "What are 'service messages'?". In the first section it suggests a new rate is being enforced on the customer. The second paragraph suggests there was an element of choice with regard to the rate. Was the example meant to say there was the opportunity for the customer to make use of the rate so they should be made aware of it but not persuaded to take it up?

Q2 Does the draft code contain the right level of detail?
(When answering please remember that the code does not seek to duplicate all our existing data protection and e-privacy guidance)

Yes

No

If no please explain what changes or improvements you would like to see:

Q3 Does the draft code cover the right issues about direct marketing?

Yes

No

If no please outline what additional areas you would like to see covered:

Q4 Does the draft code address the areas of data protection and e-privacy that are having an impact on your organisation's direct marketing practices?

Yes

No

If no please outline what additional areas you would like to see covered:

Q5 Is it easy to find information in the draft code?

Yes

No

If no, please provide your suggestions on how the structure could be improved:

Q6 Do you have any examples of direct marketing in practice, good or bad, that you think it would be useful to include in the code?

Yes

No

If yes, please provide your direct marketing examples:

Q7 Do you have any other suggestions for the direct marketing code?

It would be good to have some clarity around 'linked' marketing (not deliberately targeted/directed). For example, non-targeted advertising is placed on a website. A service message is sent to individuals (as per the guidance - neutral in tone and not persuasive) telling them about a service that is available to them, when they click on a link to access the service they are taken to the page that contains the non-targeted advertising. Is this acceptable?
